

Transcript – Rutgers Business School

0:00 Male Student: Today is the NJC4 Rutgers Case Competition.

0:04 Female Student: We competed in a business case competition that Rutgers hosted for all the community colleges in New Jersey.

0:10 Robert M. Kurland, Ph.D, Rutgers Business School: So they're given this question that they're supposed to research and develop a presentation in order to present in front of a panel of professional business judges about a real world situation.

0:20 Robert M. Kurland, Ph.D, Rutgers Business School: They've been really very good presentations. Something that the students should be very proud of.

0:24 Robert M. Kurland, Ph.D, Rutgers Business School: And honestly I attribute that a lot to the M&T ambassadors.

0:27 Title Card: Business professionals from M&T Bank worked personally with the college teams to help them prepare for the presentation.

0:35 Female Student: We know that he has a day job and he took the time to come all the way to Passaic County to be with us.

0:42 Female Student: He really showed us that this has real world implications. And this is something that is going to benefit us and our career in the long run.

0:48 Therone Hopkins, M&T Bank: A competition like this gives a student an opportunity to take what they've learned within a classroom setting and apply it to a real world setting.

0:58 Thomas H. Comiskey, M&T Bank: M&T is involved in the competition because we believe in giving back to our communities.

1:02 Alicia Brockway, M&T Bank: That's what M&T does. M&T is all about helping the community, learning from the community.

1:08 Robert M. Kurland, Ph.D, Rutgers Business School: The first place award goes to Bergen!

1:16 Male Student: It was a great experience, it was a great opportunity.

1:18 Female Student: All of our hard work has paid off.

1:20 Female Student: What I'm going to take away from this competition is the fact that I don't need to doubt myself. Just presenting in front of all those judges I can have the confidence to do that throughout life.
